VISTA Assignment Objectives & Member Activities
Host Site Organization Overview	Maine Foodscares focuses on reducing food insecurity in southern Maine by providing low-income families and individuals with free gardens, gardening and food preparation instruction, and a community experience based on increasing direct access to healthy, nutritious produce. Maine Foodscares also participates in the network of southern Maine organizations and programs that support food production as a means to reduce food insecurity; Maine Foodscares has several partnerships that enable us to leverage additional resources to combat hunger and poverty. Because organic vegetable gardening embodies the principles of sustainable agriculture, reduces the transportation component of food costs, and improves the micro-ecology in the area where the garden is located, the Free Garden Project also generates positive outcomes for the environment.

Project Goal	The goal of this VISTA project is to continue the capacity building efforts of Maine Foodscapes to act as a non-profit agency by developing the tools, procedures, and grant submissions necessary to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. meet the needs of the Foodscapes Garden Project’s community of low-income gardeners throughout Southern Maine b. expand Maine Foodscapes programming c. increase financial sustainability of the organization through fundraising efforts and grant submissions
Sustainability	Provide a summary of how the member(s) service will be sustainable once their term ends. Is this project designed to augment a full year member’s term? Will the project be expanded upon in the rest of the year or the following summer?
Objective 1	Work towards ending the cycle of poverty through increasing Maine Foodscapes’ capacity to address food insecurity experienced by residents of Southern Maine The Maine Foodscapes Garden Project serves low-income, food-insecure families in southern Maine; depending on how the data are counted, 16% of Maine’s households, 16% of its seniors, and 20% of its children do not have enough to eat. Maine has the highest rate of hunger (“very low” on the food insecurity scale) in New England; our hunger rate is third in the nation, and sixth for overall food insecurity. Cumberland and York Counties comprise the majority of Maine Foodscapes’ service area. Of the households in Cumberland County, just over 12% experience food insecurity, and 50% are eligible for federal food assistance programs; in York County, just over 11% of households are food insecure, and 52% are eligible for federal food assistance. Both counties have a poverty rate of about 10%. Recruitment of gardeners is conducted through notices sent to over 50 partners who work with our target population (food banks, social service agencies, community gardens, etc.). Along with information about gardening skills, the application form gathers demographic characteristics and perceptions of household food security and self-efficacy. For our three years of operation to date, 45% of Foodscapes households are headed by single parents; 50% receive EBT/WIC benefits, are eligible for free or reduced-price school lunches, and use a food bank or pantry more than twice a month. Over 75% reported that their funds did not cover enough food to last the month, and nearly 80% reported that their budget often or sometimes did not stretch to provide healthful, well-balanced meals. Although there are few studies to date on the impact of personal vegetable gardening on food insecurity, interest is growing, and preliminary data have been collected. A 2018 study in San Jose, CA, found that home gardens active for six months saved $552 on the household food budget. The three-raised-bed gardens provided by Maine Foodscapes can, if succession planning and season extension techniques are used, provide about $1,200 of produce for a garden year. The poverty line for a family of four in Maine is $25,100; if a household did produce $1,200 worth of food, it would increase household income by 4.7%. VISTA Member Involvement: The VISTA member assigned to Development Manager will aid Maine Foodscapes in developing key processes necessary for the long-term sustainability of the organization as a nonprofit. The VISTA Member will play a key role in the sustainability of the new organization-wide CRM system (Neon One CRM), grant research and writing, work to increase Maine Foodscapes’ operating budget through fundraising
